WOMENSWEAR

I am a creative Womenswear Designer with a passion for sustainability, pattern cutting, and purposeful design. Enthusiastic about continuous learning and striving for excellence, I approach every project with creativity, meaning, and a drive to think outside the box. With strong trend awareness and an understanding of consumer needs, I enjoy translating innovative concepts into commercially relevant designs. Combining technical skills with creative vision, I am committed to creating garments that are both aesthetically appealing and environmentally conscious. Adaptable, detail-oriented, and motivated by new challenges, I thrive in collaborative environments and continuously seek opportunities to expand my knowledge and push creative boundaries.
